

THE 2ND ANNUAL
WRITER'S DIGEST

MFA Confidential

CONTEST

If you're enrolled in a writing-focused graduate program for the 2010-2011 school year, you could be the next student blogger for Writer's Digest!

The winner of this unique contest will take the reins of the popular MFA Confidential blog at WritersDigest.com. It's a once-in-a-lifetime chance to represent the writing student community, interact with an audience of fellow writers, and garner feedback and discussion on a regular basis.

Visit MFA Confidential at blog.writersdigest.com/mfaconfidential to see our current student blogger in action. Think you have what it takes to fill her shoes? There's only one way to find out!

DEADLINE: July 1, 2010

TO ENTER: Submit 1-3 sample posts, no more than 1,000 words total, in the body of an e-mail to writersdigest@fwmedia.com with "MFA Confidential" in the subject line. Include your full name, address, e-mail, daytime phone number and the name of the graduate program and school in which you are enrolled. Attachments will not be opened. Entrants must be enrolled in a writing-focused graduate program during the 2010-2011 school year to be eligible.

For complete guidelines and official rules, visit writersdigest.com/mfacontest